

Costume Dance at Woman's Club Sets Pace for Hallowe'en Parties

Disguises of Dancers and Decorations Form Gay Scene

With glassy-eyed witches, grotesque scarecrows and all such spooky folk standing watch over the affair, a gay party of masked dancers made merry at the Torrance Woman's Club Hallowe'en dance Saturday evening. The clubhouse was artistically decorated with liberal use of corn stalks, black cats, black and yellow streamers, all of which provided a fitting background for the illuminated ghosts and goblins that peered weirdly from the stage and corners of the room.

At 11 o'clock, the dancers marched before the committee of judges, who awarded Mrs. Sam Levy, Tom Watson, and A. H. "Slim" Silligo prizes for the best costumes. Mrs. Levy came as an Indian girl, Watson as a Turk, and Silligo as a harem girl.

Many other costumes were subjects of much favorable comment and several of the well known townfolk were so well disguised that their identity was not even guessed until the masks were taken off. Among the guests from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Briney of San Pedro.

Coffee and doughnuts were served at midnight, and the guests went home with much praise for the members of the club who had so successfully arranged the party.

Beauty and You

by PATRICIA LINDSAY

Two stunning coiffures designed by Leonce of New York, for "Beauty and You" readers

Well Shaped Coiffures Have Style Versatility

Once your hair is in good condition, free of dandruff and with sufficient elasticity, you should get it nicely shaped before getting the new permanent. Natural curly heads usually do not require shaping for their waves and curls stay in place with a good setting.

Of course, if a curly head has very thick hair she might find it easier to manage if it is thinned and shaped a bit. This business of thinning and shaping hair is a ticklish problem. Some hairdressers do not know when to stop when they get a pair of scissors in their hands. They hack away taking hunks of your cherished locks with little concern about how long it took you to grow them. An expert, however, will not cut away too much of your hair, nor cut in such extreme fashion that you will go home and weep afterward! But from personal experience, and many inquiries, I think it is best for you to caution the man or woman who cuts your hair. Have a pretty definite idea how you want to wear it and rather have too little cut than too much! You can always return for a second shaping after you get your permanent wave.

Good hair styling is definitely an art and if you are fortunate enough to get into the hands of a hairdresser who knows and loves his business you can have your hair cut so that it may be set in a variety of ways. If you (Reprinted by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

wish it simple for daytime you may wear it simply, and when night comes when you want to be more exotic, you should be able to comb it into a more elaborate coiffure.

Take for instance the long curl style above. This may be worn by any girl with a long bob who wants both simplicity and smartness. It substitutes for the "coiffure page" which swept the country the past year or so. Many girls and women will adapt this pretty creation not only because of its youthfulness but because it may be worn with a large barrel holding back the curls for a more sleek fashion, or the curls may be combed out carelessly and tied with an attractive bow. By leaving the curls as pictured a young girl could tie a perky bow around her front curl, or put another ornament slightly to one side of the curl.

The off-the-face coiffure with shorter curls is ideal for the lucky lady with natural curls! Others may wear it, too, but their hair must be cut in brief feathered ends and curled very softly. This is no coiffure for stiff, dried ends!

This coiffure may be worn as pictured, or lifted high on either side and pinned with an ornament. For daytime, if longer hair is more becoming with your curls, simply comb out the back curls freely and an inch or two will be added to their appearance.

Both of these fashions are appropriate to the girl under thirty, but the older girl or woman should not wear the long curls for that style would tend to droop her face instead of lifting it as the off-the-face one does. Let me give you directions on how to recondition dry or neglected hair. Write me care of this paper and enclose a stamp (3-cent), self-addressed envelope.

BROWNIERS ORGANIZE

A new club, made up of girls too young to belong to the regular Girl Scout troops, was organized in Lomita Monday under the name of Brownies. The meeting was held at the home of Miss Marcia Mayor, who was assisted by Mrs. A. Blackman in entertaining the group. Those listed as members were Patricia Blackman, Sharon Long, Marilyn Jones, Jacqueline Meng, Marlene Mulkerson, Mary Lee Montanye, Joan Price, Pollyana Henry, Marlene Brown, Marilyn Biogel, Jean Marie Crepelus.

MOONLIGHT WIENER BAKE ENJOYED

A crowd of young people celebrated Hallowe'en last Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ericson, 22407 Denker, when their daughter entertained a few of her friends at a moonlight wiener bake. The evening was spent playing games. Present were Caroline Mitchell, Nada Mitchell, Jean Laneaster, Peggy Esham, Dorine Livermore, Thelma Buffalo, Audrey Miller, Dorothy Hamman, Marjorie Chambers, William Laffordy, Gene Gobel, Walter Smith, Claude Smart, Walter Hammon, Donald Robinson, Jim Post, Bobby Leech, John Agapito, Tommy Nuckles and Helen Ericson.

NEEDLEWORK AND COOKERY SALE

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Andrew's church invites all both financially and socially, to attend its needlework, baked goods and candy sale, on Thursday, Nov. 16, at the Guild hall on Engracia avenue. The sale will begin at 2 o'clock, and tea will be served during the afternoon. A lovely quilt is to be given away.

SUB-DEBS ROLLICK AT HALLOWEEN PARTY

Last Friday night was the night to screech for the sub-debs when they celebrated Hallowe'en at a party at the home of Anna Watson, on Acacia avenue. The Watson home was decorated in Hallowe'en motif and all of the young people arrived in costume. Miss Margaret Wood, English instructor at the high school, is sponsor of the club. The evening was spent playing numerous games and all entered into the fun, featured by a scavenger hunt. Those present were Jackie Cook, Jean Armond, Martha Cavitt, Ellen Adams, Margaret Svensk, Marsha McWald, Regina Hornback, Phyllis Campbell, Harriett Pegors, Winifred Smith, Betty Jones, Eros Synthe, Virginia Hall and Virginia Watson, Howard Foster, Bob Steadman, Charles Merek, Clyde O'Dodd, Bob Golden, Glenn Hall, Bill Parton, Douglas Crawford, Bob Hatter, Warren Edwards, Burman Ingram, T. C. Ward and Clair Johnson. Appropriate refreshments for Hallowe'en were served.

The regular meeting of the sub-debs was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Virginia Hall, 2107 Graneray.

SCHOOL CARNIVAL IS SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

Mrs. M. J. Edwards, general chairman of the carnival held at the Torrance Elementary school on Friday, Oct. 27, reports a very successful affair, both financially and socially. Everyone who attended went away smiling and reported a good time. Mrs. Edwards wishes to thank all the mothers who sent in articles and those who helped in the booths. Much of the credit is due Mr. Dykes and the teachers, the Abbott School of Dancing, the high school for permission to sell hot dogs at the football game and the Torrance Herald for publicity. A nice sum was netted for P.T.A. welfare work, which was the aim of the affair.

ROARK AND BRIDE TO LIVE AT ROLLING HILLS

Mr. and Mrs. Aiden Roark, she was Helen Willis Moody, former world singles tennis champion and he is best known as an international polo player, will have charge of the Rolling Hills Hunt club. He is employed as a scenario writer at 20th Century-Fox studio. The couple, married last Saturday in Las Vegas, Nev., are spending their honeymoon at Boulder Dam and the Grand Canyon. Both Mrs. Moody, who gave her age as 33, and Roark, 34, have married before. The tennis star was divorced in 1937 from a San Francisco broker while Roark received his divorce in December, 1937.

GARAGE TRANSFORMED FOR GAY PARTY

A real old-fashioned Hallowe'en party was held this week in a garage filled with hay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harder, 1604 Greenwood, where a number of their friends were invited to help join in the fun. They all arrived in costume and the evening was spent playing games. Lots of noise makers were distributed to help make the party a huge success. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Max Felker and Mr. and Mrs. Nels Lewellen from Redondo Beach, Miss Vivienne Barker of Culver City, Mr. and Mrs. James McCandless, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gibson and Frank Humiston from Whittier; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harder and the hosts from Torrance. The guests at their refreshments in the garage on a hay stack.

GUILD MEETS NEXT WEDNESDAY

The Central Evangelical Woman's Guild will meet Wednesday, Nov. 8, at 2:30 o'clock in the Guild hall on Arlington avenue. Mrs. H. Archer Lewis and Mrs. J. F. Spehger will be the hostesses.

This is what I call solid comfort!
-it's healthful comfort, too, thanks to gas winter air conditioning

"Relaxing after a busy day is much simpler since we put in automatic gas heating. The house seems just right! No one has to worry about turning the heat up or down. Walls stay dry. The humidity of the air is the way we like it. And gas heat is very economical."
Greatest satisfaction at LOWEST COST is yours with other gas appliances, too!

FOR WATER HEATING—quick hot water for every requirement! That's the convenience you enjoy with an automatic gas water heater. Gas heats water faster, costs less.

FOR COOKING—sparkless broiling is an actual fact on a modern gas range! Grease is dislodged from the heat zone. Any splattering particles are consumed in the clear blue flame.

REFRIGERATION, TOO! Never a sound from the gas refrigerator. For Servel Electrolux operates without moving, mechanical parts. That means no wear, longer life, utmost economy.
A dealer or your gas company will be glad to discuss modernization with you—for cooking, refrigeration, water heating, house heating!
